Mount Everest comes to mind when we talk about the highest mountain in the world. Its height we learn from our school books is 8,848 meters, but is it still that high now? Some scientists believe it may have become shorter. In 1955, an Indian study team took measurements of the mountain and marked the height as 8,848 meters; however, some people still questioned how high it really was. An American team recorded it at 8,850 meters in 1999, and a Chinese team found that without ice and snow, it was only 8,844 meters in 2005. Besides, after a big earthquake hit Nepal and seriously affected the mountain, there was more question about its height. To find the answer to the question, Nepal and China sent two teams to the top of Mount Everest. The teams stayed there for as long as they could and collected as much information as possible. Once they've finished reviewing their findings, they will let the world know Mount Everest's new height.

Jakarta, on the island of Java, is the capital and the largest city of Indonesia. It's home to millions of people from around the world, but it's not a comfortable place to live or work in. Jakarta has faced many problems for years. Because of the poorly-planned streets and the rising number of cars and motorcycles on the road, the capital's traffic is the 12th worst in the world. Air pollution from the heavy traffic affects the people's health a lot. Besides, with more than 10 million people, the garbage is another big problem for the city; there isn't enough space to put all the trash. What's worse, much land of the city is sinking because of the rising sea levels and the over-use of underground water. A study shows that many parts of the city could go under the sea by 2050. So, Indonesia has decided to build a new capital city on the island of Borneo, and the government will work better there.

 (C) The environment(環境) there isn't clean. (D) It is too far from the sea.
- () 36. Which of the following pictures can best describe(描述) the word "sink"?

Do you know what your blood type is? There are four major blood groups including type A, B, AB, and O. The information of star signs is helpful to know someone better, but Japanese people like to ask the blood type of other people more because they think it is more trustworthy!

People with A blood type are patient and smart. They don't like to have a fight with anyone. They like to follow the rules and care about manners. They like things clean, tidy, and at the right place. People with this blood type also get stressed easily.

People with B blood type are very creative, and they often make decisions quickly. They are also empathetic, and this makes them good friends. However, they care about themselves more and sometimes like to do things alone.

People with AB blood type are a mix of A and B personality types. These people can be shy like A type but outgoing like B type. They are attractive and make friends easily, but they are poor at dealing with stress.

People with O blood type are generous, kind-hearted and loving. They are also outgoing and go-getters. They often do their best to do everything well because they want everything perfect. They can do better than other blood types in hard times. These people can be excellent leaders because they won't be affected by little things.

M: Wow! My grandmother and mother are also "Mice". You can join our mouse family.

Q: How old may Jack's grandmother be?

12. B: How come you went to the riddle party alone last night?

G: Well. Both my brother and sister were preparing for their tests.

B: Did you give many correct guesses then?

G: Of course. The riddles were not very difficult for me.

Q: With whom did the girl go to the riddle party last night?

13. W: Dear Alice,

February 5 is the Chinese New Year. I know it's your first time to spend the festival in Taiwan and I want to invite you to our home. We can have a big dinner in which you can enjoy your favorite dumplings. We can also pray at the temple on the first day of the holidays. Besides, pasting spring couplets is also a lot of fun. Tell me about it soon.

Emily

Q: What can Alice do during the Chinese New Year at Emily's home?

14. M: I'm not sure what career I want to have. Teaching is interesting, but I think I'm more interested in computers.

W: Computer science might be a good choice. Besides, people can make a lot of money by working at a computer company.

M: I don't really care about money. I want to do something that I will enjoy.

Q: Which is true about the man?

15. W: It's common for people of all ages to have stress. Although people face stress almost every day, not many people know how to deal with it. If you are not feeling happy and not being very confident in yourself, and even worse, if you often feel angry, you might be under much stress. If you are not sure about it, the best way is to visit a doctor.
